Confidential Firearms Instruction and Concealed Carry Permit Training

Capital Defense Instruction, LLC understands that not everyone wants to take a firearm related course in a large group, in a co-ed setting, or at a public venue.

CDI offers private firearms training and classroom-based courses in a closed setting for yourself, family, or small group. These courses can be held during the day, evening or weekend hours.

Question: What should I look for in a Firearms Instructor?

Answer: A Firearms Instructor should have these three essential professional qualities:

1. They should be able to consistently shoot with accuracy.
2. They should be able to teach in layman's terms.
3. In regards to providing personalized range instruction services, they should be able to diagnose what you are doing correctly / incorrectly and quickly move you along a path of firearms proficiency.
